

Christine Giesa, D.O., FACEP, FACOEP

Christine Giesa, D.O., FACEP, FACOEP, President, ACOEP-began her career after graduating from Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine and completing her residency in Emergency Medicine at Albert Einstein Medical Center in Philadelphia. She went on to earn her fellowship status about the ACOEP and ACEP and is also a distinguished fellow of ACOEP. She has served as a clinical instructor for Albert Einstein medical center's residency program for 14 years. She is currently the osteopathic director of medical education for the Crozer Keystone health system and is the program director for a traditional rotating internship at Delaware County Memorial Hospital where she also performs her clinical duties. Dr. Giesa is also an assistant professor in emergency medicine at the Philadelphia College of osteopathic medicine.