

Michael Murphy, M.D.

Dr. Michael Murphy is co-founder and Chief Executive Officer of HealthChannels, the parent company of CareThrough, QueueLogix and ScribeAmerica, LLC. Today, ScribeAmerica is the nation's most frequently used professional scribe training and management company. ScribeAmerica was ranked on the INC. 500/5000 for America's fastest-growing private companies in 2011-2017. ScribeAmerica was also the recipient of the "Good to Great" award in 2015 and honored by being ranked number two by Modern Healthcare as one of the nation's Hottest Healthcare companies.

Prior to HealthChannels, Dr. Murphy served as an Army Ranger for the 1st Ranger Battalion in Savannah, Georgia, which allowed him to gain various leadership skills along with the ability to develop standard operating procedures. Dr. Murphy has been a leader on multiple issues including medical scribes, department throughput, optimization of the provider to patient ratios, the transition to value-based care and innovative technologies. His goals are to continue making all practice locations an environment built for an exceptional patient experience and allow providers to solely focus on patient care.

Dr. Murphy received his Doctor of Medicine from St. George's University and completed his residency training in Emergency Medicine at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey in Newark. He was an Ernst and Young Finalist has co-authored one textbook and is involved in 3 peer review articles. Dr. Murphy also runs the Fore the Brave charity golf tournament.